PORTERS STANDS WITH THE BOSTON'S WEST END'S LONG TRADITION OF WORKING HARD AND PLAYING HARD.

In 1630 (before it was land-filled with the top of Beacon Hill) you'd be treading water in Mill Pond, home of Boston's first shipyard, where later the 15,000lb anchor line for the USS Constitution was made.

In the 1800's, Canal Street was the end-point of the hand-dug Middlesex Canal, leading to Haymarket. "Porters" worked on the canal, bringing produce from the boats to market. Porters were also employed by the six railroad lines in the neighborhood, carrying passengers' luggage to the trains.

We still enjoy the delicious dark beer these men drank, nicknamed "porter" in their honor.

PORTERS is the perfect place to unwind with our always-changing selection of the finest craft beers available on tap, right next to your favorite old standbys, and enjoy one of the PORTERS special meals that have been keeping our customers happy for over fifteen years.

In the West End, we're still putting in the hours and having the fun that makes Boston great.

WELCOME TO OUR TRADITION.
